Storyboard

Persona:
customer,
cody justice

Scenario: disorganized &
wants to change

-gathers tasks that need to get done
-brainstorms organization
methods

-looks through cellphone for schedule planners and similar applications
-uses cellphone to download this app

-organizes app based on dates for tasks
-describes tasks and what needs to be done in planner

Persona - College sophomore, Sarah   Scenario - Managing tasks

Sarah begins her day surrounded by scattered papers and a restless to-do list, longing for a solution to regain control.

Sarah discovers Task manager app, a potential solution to her organizational woes.

Sarah meticulously plans her academic schedule and inputs her class schedule, assignments and work shifts into app from her laptop.

Sarah receives a notification for her upcoming computer science lecture, keeping her on track.
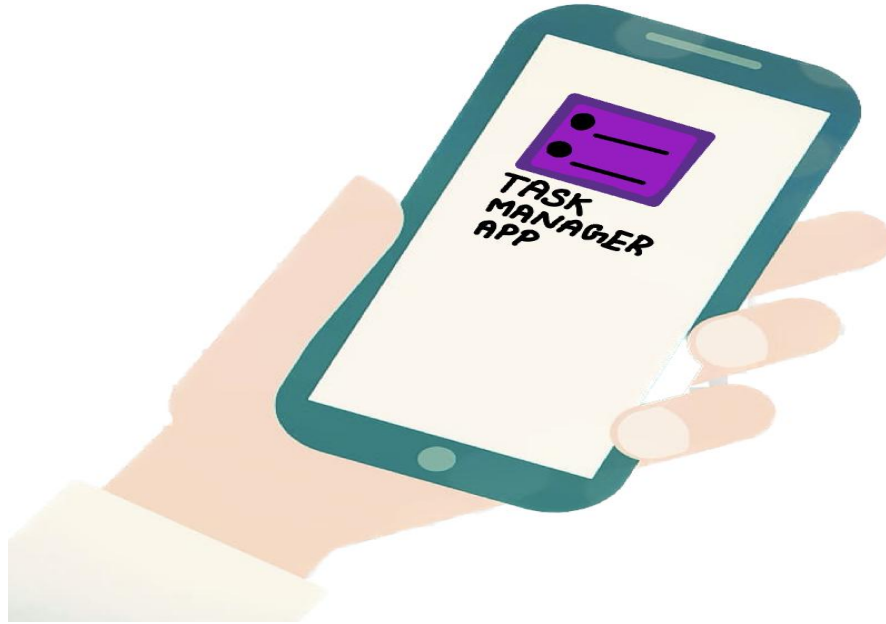

App helps Sarah to enjoy well- earned breaks and quality time with friends by balancing life and studies.
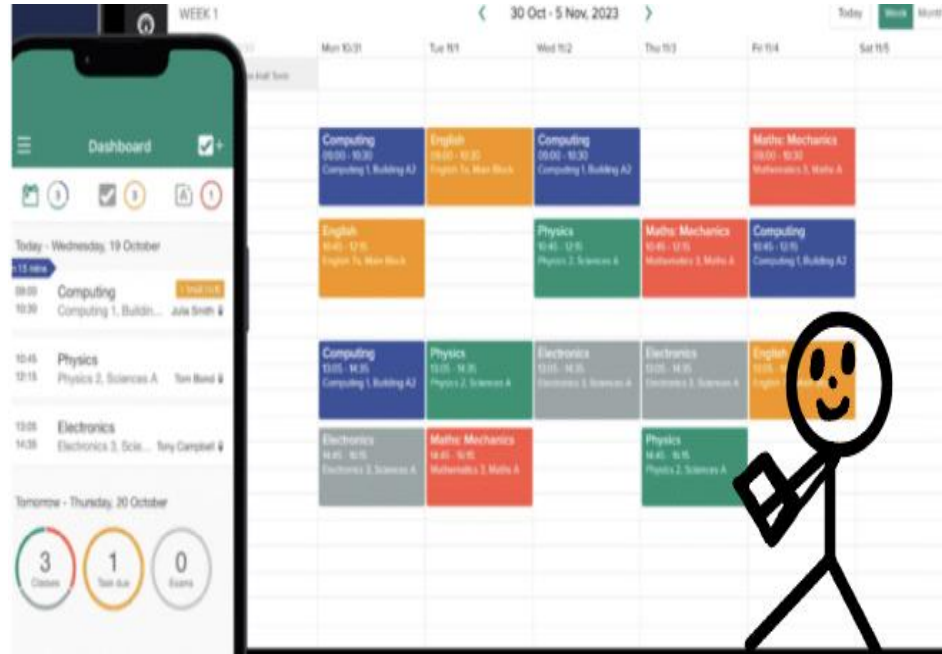

Sarah's day end with a sense of achievement and a clearer, more organized workspace.

Sarah begins her day surrounded by scattered papers and a restless to-do list, longing for a solution to regain control.

Sarah discovers Task manager app, a potential solution to her organizational woes.

Sarah meticulously plans her academic schedule and inputs her class schedule, assignments and work shift into app from her laptop.

Sarah receives a notification for her upcoming computer science lecture, keeping her on track.

App helps Sarah to enjoy well- earned breaks and quality time with friends by balancing life and studies.

Sarah's day end with a sense of achievement and a clearer, more organized workspace.

Briggs wakes up at 11 am everyday and he doesn't know where his first class is or when

He goes to his kitchen, still trying to figure out when and where his class is, but then he remembers he downloaded the Class Scheduler Pro app last night and manually put his class schedule in. He takes out his phone and sees his class is in Darla Moore School of Business room 265 at 1:10.

Briggs leaves his apartment to go to class. He continuously checks Class Scheduler Pro to make sure he is going to the right class at the right time.

Briggs finally makes it to class, he's early for the first time in his life and it's all thanks to Class Scheduler Pro.